04/06/2023	Finance/Audit	Approve request by American Airlines to exercise its option to purchase a CAE Boeing B767-300 Full Flight Simulator.
Action That the Airport Board approves a request by American Airlines to exercise its option to purchase a CAE Boeing B767-300 Full Flight Simulator; identified by FAA ID number 596.
Description <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• In the past, the Dallas Fort Worth Facility Improvement Corporation (FIC) has financed flight simulators for American Airlines (AA) using tax-exempt bonds. These bonds have been fully repaid by AA and were not obligations of the FIC or the airport. In order to finance using tax-exempt bonds, the Airport had to technically own the equipment, which was leased back to AA, under the terms of a Master Equipment Lease.</li><li>• Pursuant to Article 12 of the Master Equipment Lease, as amended, AA has the option to purchase the equipment at Fair Market Value.</li><li>• AA has informed the Airport that a CAE Boeing B767-300 Full Flight Simulator; FAA ID number 596, is now surplus equipment and AA is requesting that the Airport Board approves AA's right to exercise its option to purchase the equipment for the amount of $9,500,000. AA will then sell the simulator to a 3rd party for the same amount. The proceeds from the sale will be used for eligible projects. To determine Fair Market Value, AA underwent a competitive bidding process with eight key market players who submitted purchase offers in the combination of cash and/or cash and services. AA has selected the highest cash offer.</li></ul>
